This document should be read in conjunction with the Stage 6 Assessment Policy document, which can be found on the NSW School of Languages website.

School-based assessment and the final HSC result

To obtain the final HSC mark NESA adds together and averages

- the percentage mark obtained in the HSC examination
and
- the moderated assessment mark (also a percentage mark).

To arrive at the moderated assessment mark there are two steps:

- the student completes a number of assessment tasks set by the school, the results of which are combined to form the final school assessment mark.
- the school provides NESA with all of its students' final assessment marks, and NESA applies statistical procedures to the marks to ensure that marks from all schools are comparable. This procedure produces the moderated assessment mark for each student.

This means that half of the available marks for the final HSC result are reserved for the moderated assessment mark.

Please note that the moderating procedure may alter a student's actual mark, but it does not alter the student's position in the group studying that course at the same school. This means that, if a student's original final school assessment mark places that student at 5th place in the school course group, then the moderated assessment mark for that student will be at 5th place even though the actual mark may change.

As mentioned above, the final school assessment mark is the combination of marks from a number of assessment tasks held throughout the HSC year.

NESA requires that the final school assessment mark be compiled in such a way that the marks available for each of a number of defined components of the course make up a fixed percentage or weighting of the final mark. These components are called the assessment components for the course.

Organisation of assessment tasks

The timetable of the NSW School of Languages Year 12 Assessments with specific dates is available on the NSW School of Languages website. Assessment Task information notices will be posted on the NSW School of Languages two weeks prior to the assessment tasks. They will also be available through Canvas. Students should be aware that it is a condition of enrolment that they sit for assessment tasks under the conditions specified by NSW School of Languages. Failure to attempt these assessment tasks may render the student ineligible to sit for this subject at the Higher School Certificate Examination.

External assessment (HSC examination)

The examination will consist of a written paper worth 100 marks. Time allowed: 3 hours including 10 minutes reading time.

The stimulus texts and the writing tasks will relate to the contemporary issues listed in the syllabus. All questions will be phrased in English and Indonesian.

Monolingual and/or bilingual print dictionaries may be used. The paper will consist of three sections.

Section I – Listening and Responding

(20 marks)

This section will consist of two parts.

Part A (10 marks)

- There will be one question based on an aural text in Indonesian.
- The text will be read twice. There will be a 2-minute pause between the readings, and a 12-minute pause following the second reading to allow candidates to answer the question.
- The total time for one reading of the text will be approximately 3 minutes.
- The question will contain short-answer parts requiring a response in English and may contain objective response parts.
- There will be no more than four parts.
- One part will be worth from 5 to 6 marks.
- Candidates will be required to respond to information in the text in one or more of the following ways: providing a summary of the main points, ideas, arguments or points of view; analysing ways in which language is used to convey meaning; or identifying the audience, purpose and context of the text.

Part B (10 marks)

- There will be one extended response question requiring a response in Indonesian.
- The question will be based on two aural texts in Indonesian related to the same contemporary issue.
- The texts will be read twice. The texts will be read in sequence and there will be a 2-minute pause between the readings and a 20-minute pause following the second reading of both texts to allow candidates to answer the question.
- The total time for one reading of both texts will be approximately 4 minutes.
- The question will specify the audience, purpose and context of the response.
- The expected length of response will be approximately:
 - 150 words in Indonesian.

Section II – Reading and Responding

(55 marks)

This section will consist of two parts.

Part A (40 marks)

- There will be two questions requiring responses in either Indonesian or English.
- The first question will contain approximately four parts, with at least one part worth from 5 to 7 marks and will relate to an extract from one of the prescribed texts. The length of the extract will be:
 - up to 500 words in Indonesian.
- Candidates will be required to identify, discuss and analyse the content, context and/or language of the extract.
- The second question will have a mark value from 15 to 25 marks and will require an extended response. The question will relate to one of the prescribed themes or contemporary issues. Candidates will be required to evaluate the textual features of one or more of the related prescribed texts.
- The expected length of response will be from approximately:
 - 300 to 400 words in Indonesian.

Part B (15 marks)

- There will be one extended response question requiring a response in Indonesian.
- Candidates will be required to respond to the opinions, ideas and information in a text of approximately:
 - 250 words in Indonesian.
- The question will specify an audience, purpose and context.
- The expected length of response will be approximately:
 - 300 words in Indonesian.

Section III – Writing in Indonesian

(25 marks)

- There will be two extended response questions requiring a response in Indonesian.
- Candidates will be required to answer one question.
- Questions will specify the audience, purpose and context for the response, and will require the same text type.
- The expected length of response will be approximately:
 - 350 words in Indonesian.
