To access the supervised task, click on the Assessment block in your Canvas course. This is a timed task, and you will have 20 minutes and only ONE attempt to complete the task. Do not attempt the task unless you are supervised and have the required time to complete it. If you experience any difficulties, contact your NSW School of Languages teacher immediately.

You should not have access to any course materials or any other browser tabs, computer programs, or other electronic devices. A failure to comply will result in a mark over zero being recorded. You may have a spare blank piece of paper with you to take notes during the listening. This paper will not be collected or marked.

You will hear THREE texts based on the topics above. Each text will be played twice. You will be required to respond to the questions in English or in Korean as specified. For questions requiring a response in English, you will type your answer directly into Canvas. For questions requiring a response in Korean, you will write your responses by hand on the assessment paper provided.

On the Assessment Day, you will have to present your findings in a 2-minute speech in Korean. You will be permitted to prepare brief notes to help you to deliver your speech and you may refer to these during the task. You will then be asked a variety of questions in Korean based on your findings. The discussion will be approximately 3 minutes.
