Late or Unforeseen and Unique Circumstances Application by Other Educational Providers

For late or unforeseen and unique circumstances applications, Principals of other educational providers (i.e. not NSW public schools) must initially request endorsement from the Director responsible for distance education. Please refer to current Distance Education Enrolment Procedures for more information.

The Principal must provide the following:

- a substantial reason explaining why the application is late (note: change of mind is not an acceptable reason) or
- a substantial explanation of the unforeseen and unique circumstances which have impacted on the student's capacity to follow their proposed courses at the home school (e.g. an emerging health issue, a school's quota is depleted and a language is essential to the student's pattern of study).

Procedure for Late or Unforeseen and Unique Circumstances Applications

Please forward this form and a detailed statement of 1-2 paragraphs (see above) outlining the reasons for access to distance education to the Coordinator, Rural and Distance Education who will provide advice to the Director (rde@det.nsw.edu.au).

Consideration by the Director will include:

- all local options to provide curriculum for the student have been exhausted.
- distance education is essential and required as part of a documented learning plan.
- curriculum access through distance education is the most appropriate option.

If the Director endorses the enrolment, please email the application to NSW School of Languages (enrolments.nswsol@det.nsw.edu.au).
